

INDUSTRIAL SERVICES

EMR TRAINING

Safety Management Systems provides you with a comprehensive list of medical training required by various regulatory and certifying organizations. Training is offered either on-site or at our world-class 96,000 square foot Training Academy in Lafayette, Louisiana. Our emergency medical training consists of medical skills training and refreshers offered through our EMR training courses.

Safety Management Systems' medical personnel service both land and maritime divisions of the energy and construction industry, including disaster situations. SMS remote and industrial staff undergo the best occupational medical training in the industry and participate in Annual Clinical In-services to review case studies, discuss protocols, drug therapy and new equipment. Our paramedics are dually qualified to serve as both paramedics and firefighters. The combination of top-notch expertise, training and our state-of-the-art equipment is what sets SMS paramedics apart from the competition.

SMS occupational health expertise helps to ensure compliance and provides peace of mind for companies and employees alike by providing pre-employment screening, medical care, and other industrial hygiene and safety solutions.

Our preventative care works to identify and address health risks before they become debilitating, minimizing company costs and keeping employees at work. The total cost of absence for employees on medical leave is typically far higher than medical payments, making occupational health programs a sound investment for organizations.

From oil platforms to warehouses and industrial sites, our team has the experience and expertise to provide the best occupational health solutions for virtually any setting.

SMS CAN PROVIDE:

- Standby ambulance
- Air Med service
- Mobile medical healthcare

SAFETY SERVICES

At SMS, our main goal is protecting lives. We provide companies with on-site safety management and consulting services to promote and maintain an ethical workplace atmosphere that equally values health, safety and environmental responsibility.

SMS safety specialists embody a commitment to excellence in their field. They facilitate on-site safety management by interacting with crew and daily compliance monitoring. SMS safety specialists function as safety-trained supervisors (STS), supplying constant support for your HSE needs and provide direct program implementation support to field personnel. We offer highly trained, BCSP-certified professionals with diverse industry experience who specialize in hazard identification and assist with correction.

Safety Management Systems' Industrial Hygiene (IH) team provides comprehensive IH services in oil & gas, petrochemical, industrial/commercial and environmental remediation industries. After undergoing rigorous best-practice and mandated training, IH technicians are then mentored by senior supervisors/IH managers throughout their SMS careers. Our technicians are qualified to handle "exposure potential," especially asbestos, lead, NORM, silica, H₂S, noise, chemicals and more.

800.252.5522 | SafetyMS.com

